1. Foreword

We all have an ethnicity, an age, a sexual identity, a gender. Many of us belong to a faith group, with an increasing number of us recognising that we have a disability. These factors can often mean we want and need different things. It also means that when we say equalities, fairness, respect and dignity it is important we are talking about an agenda that affects everyone in our school community.

Our equalities and human rights agenda is about proactively working to address inequalities and improving lives for good. This is especially important where our teaching and interventions can benefit children and young people for the rest of their lives.

This document serves a few purposes, it sets out our schools overall commitment to equality, diversity, human rights and community cohesion, which permeates in all our policies and procedures. It aims to ensure that everyone who comes into contact with our school community is valued and respected. It aims to promote equality of opportunity and eliminate unlawful discrimination harassment or victimisation. It contains an approach to all the equality groups protected by the Equality Act 2010, it sets out our specific school objectives and it outlines how the school will incorporate the scheme within our day-to-day school life.

Our scheme includes our whole school i.e. pupils, staff, governors, parents and carers and all those within our extended school community, such as neighbouring schools and learning organisations.

Whilst the document also serves to outline our statutory duties under the Equality Act 2010, more importantly it allows us to focus on making our school an equitable, respectful and fair place, with an aim to improve outcomes that matter to our school community.

2. Introduction

The role of an Equalities Scheme is to visibly set out our priorities for action to improve chances, choices and outcomes in the lives of different groups of people, and how well we are doing to attain them.

The Equality Act 2010 consolidates and replaces previous discrimination legislation. The Act covers discrimination, harassment and victimisation because of age, disability, gender reassignment, marriage and civil partnerships, pregnancy and maternity, race, religion or belief, sex and sexual orientation. These categories of people are listed as protected groups because of their characteristics. There is recognition of the complexity of multiple identities and therefore multiple needs and disadvantage. Our equality scheme includes our priorities and actions to eliminate discrimination and harassment from these protected characteristics as well as promoting a culture of human rights, respect and dignity.

The duties apply to staff, pupils and people using the services of the school, such as parents and the wider community.

The school is obliged to:

- Eliminate discrimination and harassment, tackling prejudice
- Avoid and deal with any victimisation that takes place following a complaint relating to equality;
- Have due regard to the promotion of equality and opportunity between all members of the school and wider communities;
- Promote positive attitudes and understanding of the protected groups
- Encourage participation by minority and under-served groups in school life;
- Take steps to take account of people's specific needs even when this requires treating some individuals more favourably than others (especially in the case of disabled people), this includes using positive action measures where needed
- Conduct equality analysis, and draw up a relevant scheme and publicise it.

3. School values, ethos /Mission Statement

'Enjoy and achieve together'

4. Salford's profile

Salford is a growing and increasingly diverse city. The city is home to Salford City College and the University of Salford, two mosques, one Gurdwara, a number of synagogues and churches.

There remain significant gaps between the most and least deprived parts of the city, and also between Salford and the rest of the North West and UK. It remains the fourth most deprived authority, in terms of both income and employment, in Greater Manchester and 15th in the Index of Multiple Deprivation in 2007

In 2009 the Office of National Statistics (ONS) estimated that the population of the city was 225,100. Of those 225,100 people:

- 41,000 were aged 0 -15 (18.2%),
- 144,900 were of working age (64.37%)
- 39,200 were older people aged over 60 for women or 65 for men (17.41%)

Salford experienced a 30.1% growth in the number of residents aged between 20 and 24 years, between 2001 and 2007.

Salford also received net inward migration of between 3,000 and 6,000, 16 to 24 year olds per annum. The ONS estimated that 1,200 people migrated to the city during 2007/08 and that the population grew as a whole by 2,100 people.

The city's mix of BME communities is unique to the region. The rapidly expanding Orthodox Jewish community, the second biggest outside London, is now believed to number in the region of 10,000 people - currently equivalent to 1 in 22 Salfordians, and around 10% of all young people in Salford are Jewish.

Other long standing communities in the city include the Yemeni, Bangladeshi and Pakistani communities in Eccles.

In 2001, 13.65% of the population of East Salford were recorded as Jewish and 7.65% of the population of Eccles were recorded as Muslim. The last decade has seen the city's ethnic diversity grow even further, with a range of new emerging communities such as Roma, Francophone African and Eritrean.

The 2001 Census recorded only 3.87% of the population of the city was non-white. In 2007, however, the Office for National Statistics had revised this to 7.99%.

The data from our schools census suggests a continuing trend towards diversity, with 85.5% of Salford pupils identifying as White British in 2010 compared to 96.8% in 2001.

The University draws learners from across the UK and the world, whereas the intake at the College is sourced much closer to home. This diversity is reflected in the statistics: in 2006-07, 18.2% of those entering undergraduate courses at the University were of Black, Minority Ethnic (BME) heritage. In addition, 9.5% considered themselves to have a disability.

Since 2004 Salford, like many areas of the UK, has seen a rapid influx of migrant workers from central and Eastern Europe, the city has been one of the region's main gateways for asylum seeker dispersal.

There is a comparative lack of quantitative data on Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual and Transgender (LGB&T) communities in Salford, but recent research has indicated an LGB population in Greater Manchester of 180,500 (approximately 7% of the total) with high concentrations in the area around Manchester city centre (which includes the central Salford electoral wards). Anecdotal evidence suggests a relatively well established community in the Lower Broughton and Pendleton areas close to the University.

Research for the Child Poverty Needs Assessment (2011) showed that almost 30% of children in Salford live in workless poverty. More than 6,000 families and over 12,000 children are dependent on out-of-work benefits.

The 2001 Census also indicated that 22.82% of the population had a limiting long term illness.

At the other end of the age spectrum, there was a relative worsening in the extent to which income deprivation affects older people. Over the age of 75, the proportion of women to men in every ward of the city is in the region of 3:2, which can be partly explained by the lower life expectancy for men than women

We know that nearly half of all people claiming Incapacity Benefit in Salford do so for mental health reasons, which is 10% higher than the average for England.

The most common type of reported hate crime in Salford is racially aggravated hate crime incidents. Jewish and Muslim people are at much greater risk of being a victim of hate crime in Salford. For example, of the 206 anti-Semitic incidents in Greater Manchester recorded in 2009 by the Community Support Trust, 75 were in Salford. Research on Muslim communities in central Salford completed in 2010 revealed that 28.9% had experienced racial and other forms of harassment.

By 2024 our population is projected to have increased to over 240,000 people.

4. School profile

In order to meet our equality objectives it's important to build a rich picture of our school community, to enable some analysis of our equality strengths and challenges.

- Clifton Primary School serves the community of Clifton and Kersley, it is on the edge of the Salford/Bolton border. In close proximity the A666. It is in walking distance to Clifton Country Park and Fit city Pendlebury.
- Clifton primary is a one and a half form entry school, except from Nursery which is a one form entry class.
- The large majority of pupils are White British. There are however, an increasing number of pupils with English as an additional language.
- The proportion of pupils known to be eligible for free school meals is average.
- The number of pupils at SEN support is above average.
- Attainment on entry to the school is below age-related expectations
- School has received the Healthy School Award, Active mark award, School games gold and Arts council Art mark.
- The school exceeds the government's floor standards, which set the minimum expectations for pupils' attainment and progress. The local authority rated the school as a good school.

5, Equalities objectives

Having outlined our school strength and challenges, we have identified the following 3 priority areas which we feel will make a significant difference to our school community and ensure real, tangible outcomes.

We identified these objectives based on analysis of data – attainment, progress and attendance and annual questionnaires from parents and children.

6. Accessibility Action Plan

We continue to make our school as disability friendly and accessible as we can. The assist us with this process we have updated our accessibility action plan. This outlines our plans and commitment to increase accessibility of our school environment.

Furthermore we continue to record, monitor and review all reasonable adjustments undertaken for staff, pupils, governors, parents and carers.

We demonstrate our approach via;

- An overall school-wide atmosphere of equality, dignity, respect, non-discrimination and participation.
- Pupil involvement in debates about change through the school council.
- Rich learning experiences about human rights inside and outside of the classroom

10. Engagement and Involvement

We involved pupils, staff, governors, parents and carers, and our wider school community in creating this Equality Scheme and action plan.

11. Procurement & Commissioning
